What is a financial services guide (FSG)

The Financial Services Guide (FSG) is an important document that is designed to help you decide whether to use the financial services offered. By doing this we are not allowed to use the words Independent, Impartial or Unbiased when describing our business. For more information on this please ask your adviser.

The process we follow to provide financial services

Your adviser acts as our Authorised Representative when providing personal advice to you and therefore we are responsible for any advice given. Your adviser is under an obligation to act in your best interests in relation to any personal advice provided to you (known as the 'best interest duty').

Your adviser is authorised by us to give you personal advice, but in order for them to do so, you need to provide them with information about your needs, goals and objectives. If you choose not to provide your adviser with this information, any advice they provide may not be appropriate to your needs.

Providing your adviser with instructions on how to buy or sell financial products

You may specify how you would like to give your adviser instructions, for example, in writing, by telephone, fax or other means. However, in some instances your adviser will require your instructions to be in writing. For your own protection, you should not:

- sign any blank forms or documents
- appoint any financial adviser to act as your attorney or authorised signatory
- nominate any financial adviser to receive your statements without you also receiving a copy, or
- give your adviser unclear or misleading instructions or false information.

Other documents that you may receive in addition to the FSG and Adviser Profile, your financial adviser may provide you with the following documents:

- A Statement of Advice (SoA) or Record of Advice (RoA).
Before your adviser provides you with any personal financial product advice (personal advice), they will collect information about you, your objectives, financial situation and needs. The SoA will set out the advice and the basis upon which it is given. You may then decide whether or not to act on it. It will also set out information about our remuneration and your adviser's remuneration and disclose any associations or relationships which might reasonably be expected to influence them when providing the advice. Any subsequent personal advice that is provided to you may, if it is in relation that has already been provided to you, be documented in an ROA, provided there has not been a significant change in your personal circumstances or the basis upon which the initial advice was provided. Copies of all advice documents will be retained on your client file and you may request a copy by contacting your adviser.
- A Product Disclosure Statement (PDS).
If a particular financial product (other than securities) is recommended by your adviser you must also be provided with a PDS issued by the product issuer. The PDS contains information about the benefits, risks and other features of the product, which will enable you to make an informed decision about whether to purchase the product.

How we, our adviser (and not relevant persons) are Remunerated

Both we, and your adviser receive remuneration from:

- service and advice fees paid by you;
- Remuneration and other payments paid by product providers;

Your Adviser will discuss and agree the method of payment with you before providing you with services. The specific fees and services that you will pay for will be set out in your SoA or other advice documents, your annual fee disclosure statement or client service agreement.
